

Gabriel Lezmi

Vice President of Synopsys Sales in Europe

Gabriel Lezmi joined Synopsys in 1998 as head of sales for the Southern Europe region. He is currently VP of Synopsys sales in Europe, focusing on bringing the company's high value software tools, IP and design service solutions to market, and building strategic business relationships based on enabling Synopsys customers' success. He has over 30 years of experience in the semiconductor and EDA industry.

Prior to joining Synopsys, Mr. Lezmi was head of Compass Design Automation Western Europe operations. Previously, he held several international management, sales and marketing positions at Philips Semiconductor. Mr. Lezmi has also worked for two years at the Laboratory of Microelectronics of the L.E.T.I. in Grenoble as researcher on Integrated Circuits process fabrication.

Mr. Lezmi holds a Bachelor degree in Electrical Engineering from ENSERG, a Master degree (DEA) in Computer Science from ENSIMAG, and a BA in Economical Science from the University of Grenoble.