

Phil Dworsky

Director, Strategic Alliances & Publisher of Synopsys Press

Phil Dworsky is a veteran of more than 30 years in EDA and IP. With Synopsys since 1993, he is currently director, strategic alliances as well as publisher of Synopsys Press, an imprint of Synopsys creating and delivering technical and business publications. Prior to his current positions, Mr. Dworsky held management positions in marketing, technical marketing and corporate applications at Synopsys, most recently as director, marketing and applications for DesignWare IP.

Mr. Dworsky was a co-founder and principal engineer at Performance Processors, a parallel processing company, and was also a co-founder of Silicon Solutions/Zycad, an early provider of simulation acceleration technology. He started his career at Hewlett-Packard as a hardware and software designer.

Mr. Dworsky holds a Bachelor of Science degree with high honors in electrical engineering and computer science (EECS) from Princeton University.